Valvoline® Launches Unprecedented Engine Guarantee

Industry-First 300,000 Mile Engine Guarantee Cuts Through Technical Claims

LEXINGTON, Ky. – The motor oil category has seldom been home to bold, game-changing moves. Valvoline® is breaking from tradition with an innovative offer that is without precedent in the automotive aftermarket. Register your vehicle at valvoline.com, use Valvoline motor oil regularly, and your engine can be guaranteed – up to an industry-shattering 300,000 miles.

Amid a number of confusing and convoluted claims, the Valvoline Engine Guarantee stands in contrast, speaking directly to what vehicle owners care about most – staying on the road. It's no surprise that the maker of the world's first engine oil is now offering the world's first 300,000-mile engine guarantee.

"We're putting our money where our mouth is," said Sam Mitchell, president, Ashland Consumer Markets (Valvoline). "We want to keep people on the road. Period. Vehicles that use Valvoline continue to perform. We have the utmost confidence in our products, so we're excited to now offer this best-in-class guarantee."

Drivers can register to participate in the Valvoline Engine Guarantee program via a simple three-step process at valvoline.com. Vehicles are eligible to be registered only before reaching 75,000 miles. For detailed benefits and limitations of the Valvoline Engine Guarantee, visit valvoline.com.

Participants can choose to opt-in to the Valvoline Engine Guarantee program at various levels: for instance, use Valvoline Premium Conventional motor oil for a guarantee up to 150,000 miles; MaxLife® or DuraBlend® motor oils for a guarantee up to 225,000 miles; and, for maximum protection and a guarantee up to 300,000 miles, use SynPower® Full Synthetic or MaxLife® Full Synthetic motor oils.
